Degree Course in Pharmacy

Vocational internship

The vocational internship is aimed to complete university education, by integrating it with practical activities carried out in a pharmacy.

This consists of the full-time student engagement in activities carried out at a pharmacy open to the public or at an in-hospital one under the supervision of the hospital pharmaceutical service, for a total duration of at least six months (30 CFUs), as for Article 5.

The internship is a fundamental and indispensable requirement to participate in the qualifying State examination to work officially as a pharmacist.

The period dedicated to vocational training in a pharmacy must not coincide with that one used to prepare an experimental thesis.

To be admitted to the internship the student must have passed the exams of the first three years of the course and have attended the lessons of the fourth one.

Art.1 - Vocational internship regulation: Object

All students wishing to obtain a master's degree in Pharmacy must follow the guidelines described below, governed by the legislation in force.

Art.2 – Definitions

Vocational internship

The vocational internship foreseen for the students of the master's degree course in Pharmacy can be fulfilled at a pharmacy open to the public or at an in-hospital one under the supervision of the hospital pharmaceutical service as for Article 5.

The internship consists of the student's participation in the activity of the hosting pharmacy as defined in Article 4.

Normally, the internship is carried out in a single pharmacy, but it can be divided into two 3 month periods, if necessary, after the approval of the University Internship Committee.

Before the start of the training period students have to submit to the students' administration office the application form for admission to the internship in which the pharmacy that has been made available to welcome the student must be indicated.

Subsequently, students must also present the form containing the training project of the vocational internship signed not only by the student himself/herself but also by the head of the pharmacy, the internship tutor and the university tutor.

At the end of the internship, the internship tutor must report in the appropriate section of the Internship Booklet his/her overall opinion on the activity carried out by the trainee, then returning the report to the student. The student must then endorse the Internship Booklet at the professional association of pharmacists (at provincial level). This step is mandatory to formalize the end of the activity.

The vocational internship will be recognized as eligibility after passing the "Internship Semester" exam assessed by the committee. The total CFUs for each trainee is 30 (1 CFU corresponds to 30 hours of training for a duration not exceeding 6 months). During his/her period of training, the trainee will not have any kind of binding work contract with the hosting pharmacy.
